GERMAN RESERVES HURLED FORTH IN BLOODY COUNTER ATTACKS AGAINST BRITISH

Third Day of Most Bitterly Contested Battle of the War Finds Issue in Doubt.

BRITISH MADE SOME GAINS

Spain Apparently is About to Enter World War Following Ultimatum to Germany Over Unrestricted Submarine Warfare; Russians Alarmed.

By Associated Press.

One of the greatest and most bitterly contested battles of the entire war has entered its third day in the British front in France with the issues still in doubt. Massed German reserves are being hurled forward in bloody counter attacks in a supreme effort to check the forward surge of General Haig's khaki clad troops. Some minor positions, trench lines and rubbish heaps dignified by the names of villages, have been seized by the British but the Wotan line, their main objective, is still intact.

While the mighty struggle in France rages inconclusively developments in other fields of the world upheaval are occurring with sensational rapidity. Spain has taken a long step forward on the paths along which she is apparently being pushed slowly but surely into the universal conflagration. The Madrid government has addressed a note to Germany which on its face must result in an abandonment by Berlin of its uncompromising attitude on ruthless submarine warfare or its acceptance of a new and important foe. The situation is somewhat modified by the fact that Count Romanones who as premier, dispatched the note, has since resigned. The growing tide of anti-Germanism in South America appears, however, to be having its effect in Spain, but a rigid censorship leaves affairs there obscured.

Next in importance are the growing rumors of a great German attempt against Petrograd. The reports are taken seriously enough in the Russan capital to induce many hundreds of civilians to flee to the interior. According to rumor the German plan is a combined assault by sea and land and transports escorted by a powerful German fleet, which is said to have already sailed from Libau. The political situation in Russia remains confused but there are uncomfortable reports of the activities of the Radical Socialists and of renewed outbreaks of agrarian troubles, some of a counter revolutionary character.

The unrest in Germany is having a new manifestation in a fresh outburst against Chancellor von Bethmann Hollweg by the Conservatives and National Liberals. The chancellor is being violently attacked for his alleged subservience to Socialistic influences and the opening of the Reichstag which is scheduled for today is expected to bring these attacks to a focus.

In the meantime there are indications that the tremendous currents of discontent which are running through Europe are growing in strength. The visit of the King of Denmark to Stockholm is regarded as of particular significance in view of the recent demonstration of Swedish workers against the government.

May day is expected to bring matters to a climax in Sweden and Hialmar Branting, the Swedish Socialist leader, has warned the government against undue interference against the great labor demonstration planned for that day.

In pushing the British offensive today, General Sir Douglas Haig directed an attack along the front between the Cojeul and Scrape rivers.

This is a stretch of about three miles extending roughly from Guemappe, north to Farpoux, almost directly east of Arras, where probably the most desperate fighting of the offensive has taken place. Monchy-le-Preux lies within this area. Further ground has been seized by the British here, today's official statement says, and the gains have been secured. The number of prisoners taken by the British since the resumption of the attack in force on Monday are steadily swelling and have now passed the 3,000 mark.

South of the Arras battle front, General Haig is eating bit by bit into the German line between Cambrai and St. Quentin.

The British front was moved forward two-thirds of a mile at one point last night south of the Bapaume-Cambrai road where the little village of Bilhem, southwest of the Havrincourt woods, was occupied.

With the French armies along the Aisne front and in the Champagne, the battle just now is confined mainly to the artillery. The French are continuing to make progress in local fighting, however, and advances both in the Aisne region and in the Champagne are reported by Paris. Several attacks by the Germans near Tahure and Maisons-de-Campagne were readily repulsed, as were German reactions at points on the Aisne front, notably on the Vouclere plateau west of Craonne.

PENNSYLVANIA LEADS IN ARMY RECRUITING

WASHINGTON, Apr. 25.—Pennsylvania took first place in regular army recruiting yesterday, the day's total being 238 men accepted.

GERMAN U-BOAT IS SENT TO BOTTOM BY U. S. MERCHANTMAN

By Associated Press.

LONDON, April 25.—Captain Rice of the American steamship Mongolia, which has arrived at a British port, told the Associated Press that the Mongolia had fired the first gun of the war for America and had sunk a German submarine. The submarine was about to attack the great liner in British waters on April 19.

There is no doubt that the U-boat was destroyed, Captain Rice says, the naval gunners scoring a clean hit at 1,000 yards. The periscope was shattered, and even more pertinent as regards the fate of the submersible, was the fact that the shell disappeared. Captain Rice says that the shell always ricochets and can be seen again if it fails to hit. Oil was also seen on the water. The Mongolia was running at full speed and was a long distance away before the officers could observe with their glasses the spot where the U-boat appeared. They are confident the submarine was destroyed.

NEW YORK, April 25.—The American steamship Mongolia is a liner of 13,638 tons displacement and is owned by the International Mercantile Marine Company. It sailed from New York on April 2, on its second trip since Germany's declaration of unrestricted submarine warfare on February 1.

WARRANT FOR TWO MILLIONS TURNED OVER TO BRITISH

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Secretary McAdoo today handed the British ambassador a treasury warrant for $2,000,000,000, the first loan made to any Entente government by the United States under the $7,000,000,000 war finance measure. Sir Cecil Spring Rice, British ambassador, handed Secretary McAdoo a receipt on behalf of the British government and the transaction was complete.

The transfer of the big sum was made in Secretary McAdoo's office in the presence of Lord Cunliffe, governor of the Bank of England, federal reserve board, treasury, and British embassy officials. The amount of the loan was deposited in the federal reserve bank by banks subscribing to the 250 million issue of treasury certificates due June 20. The 50 million dollars remaining of the issue will be disposed of in a manner yet to be announced.

Great Britain is spending, it was represented, approximately $8,000,000 for food stuffs and munitions in the United States.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Arthur James Balfour, British foreign secretary, stated today that the Allied governments, completely convinced of America's whole hearted consecration to the common end of destroying Prussian militarism, would not think of asking this country to depart from its traditional policies or enter into any formal alliance which might prove embarrassing.

"Our confidence in the alliance and the assurances of this government," he said, "is not based upon such shallow considerations as arise from treaties. No treaty could increase our unbounded confidence that the United States, having come into the war will see it through to the great end we all hope for."

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The French commission, headed by General Joffre and former Premier Viviani, landed safely at the Washington navy yard today soon after noon.

The reception of the principals of the French commission transcended the usual diplomatic courtesy. Rousing cheers and hand clapping from officials and private citizens greeted the visitors. Marshal Joffre was the center of attraction, although Rene Vivian, head of the commission, was very warmly received.

As Marshal Joffre stepped from the Mayflower, a young French officer bent low and kissed his hand.

29 STEAMSHIPS, RUNNING BLOCKADE, ARRIVE AT NEW YORK

NEW YORK, April 25.—Twenty steamship runners of Germany's submarine blockade, arrived at this port today and thus made available about 60,000 tons of space for cargo awaiting means of transportation to Europe. Four of these vessels are among the largest merchantmen afloat. One is a British craft on her maiden voyage.

ITALIANS, PLAN FLAG RAISING

Dunbar to be Scene of Another Patriotic Rally On Friday Night.

A patriotic rally and flag raising will be held at Dunbar Friday evening by the Italians of Dunbar and vicinity, in front of the Dunbar House. These foreign born citizens are taking this course to show their loyalty to the United States, and their joy that their adopted country has entered the war on the side of their fatherland.

Attorneys L. B. Brownfield and E. J. McDaniels of Uniontown, Guy Albanese, the Italian missionary of Scottdale, Rev. Father P. J. Brennen and other Dunbar men will address the people from a large stage erected in front of the hotel. The children of the borough, township, parochial, and Italian schools will be present, and will sing the national songs. The Royal Italian band of Connellsville, directed by Michael Molinare, will be on the streets at 7 o'clock and will play the national airs of America and Italy. The Foltz Martial band, and other musical organizations will likely be present, also. Little Beatrice Brownlee, it has been announced, will sing "Your Country is Calling You."

A beautiful flag, measuring 12x15 feet, will be unfurled to the breeze by Miss Helen Corrado, daughter of the hotel proprietor. The banner will be raised to the top of a 25 foot pole erected on the roof of the building, which is three stories high. The flag was donated by J. R. Foltz, captain of the home guard company of Dunbar. As the flag ascends to the top of the flag pole the chorus of school children will sing "The Star Spangled Banner," and a salute of 21 bombs will be fired. An elaborate display of fireworks will be set off by the American-Italian Fireworks company of Dunbar. In the intervals between the speeches, and after the rally is over, H. H. Clark, proprietor of the Central Hotel of Dunbar, will act as chairman of the meeting.

Those in charge of the celebration plan to make it the greatest Italian patriotic rally ever held in Fayette county. The town will be elaborately decorated with flags and bunting, the committee having requested that all business places and residences display the national colors. Italian and American societies and lodges are expected to turn out.

DAWSON SOON WILL RAISE FINE FLAG

A flag pole is to be erected upon the public building at Dawson. As soon as this is done a flag will be raised with appropriate ceremonies.

The Dawson unit of the Red Cross is growing in membership and activity. Rev. E. A. Glennon, pastor of the Sacred Heart church, is devoting considerable time to this work.

BIGGEST PAYDAYS OF YEAR THIS WEEK

Thousands of Dollars Put in Circulation; Merchants Expect Big Business.

This is a week of big paydays and city merchants are looking forward to increased business during the remainder of the week. Many thousands of dollars was put in circulation by various industrial plants in this immediate vicinity, the paydays coming in a row.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad pays today and tomorrow on the Connellsville and Pittsburg divisions. Trotter and Leisenring and several other coke plants also paid this week. The West Penn men received their checks on Monday.

No estimate of the amount of money thus turned loose comes any way near hitting the mark accurately but it can be stated with certainty that it is one of the largest of the year.

FOOD PRODUCTION CAMPAIGN IS NOT GETTING RESULTS

Farmers As a Whole Fail to Plant as Much as They Should, Agent Says.

SOME SECTIONS RESPOND

Reports From Normalville Are That Little Land Will Go Untilled In Springfield Township; Unused Farm Land Needs Care to Be Productive.

The propaganda for the increased production of food this year, because of the increase in consumption that will be caused by the war and because there was an actual shortage last year, has not had the desired effect of causing a general increase in planting this year, according to the observations of County Farm Agent P. E. Dougherty. So far as individual planting is concerned, Mr. Dougherty says, there will be a tremendous boost in production of vegetables. The farmers, however, are not doing a great deal more planting this year than any other year, so far. What they may do later remains to be seen.

"So far it is mostly talk and not a great deal of action," Mr. Dougherty says.

Realizing that some organized effort must be made to stir the farmers to action, those interested in the matter to the extent of investigating what has been done so far, say that it is up to the County Safety Committee to take charge at once, organize and conduct an energetic campaign for heavier planting.

But even at that, as Mr. Dougherty says, "land that has not been tilled for years cannot be made to produce a good crop this year, nor next year; in fact, results could not be expected for three years.

Some results can be accomplished, however, with this land and when it is considered that the war may last several years the wisdom of starting work on it this year will readily be seen.

In many sections fields are plowed up that have not been planted for many years, Mr. Dougherty says, but what the farmers intend to do with it cannot be determined. Much of it will be planted in corn, it is thought.

This lack of interest in the movement on the part of farmers does not apply to all sections but taking the county as a whole it does. In the Springfield-Saltlick township district the farmers are planting everything they can, according to a statement by A. G. C. Sherbondy of Normalville today.

It is too early to determine what fruit crops will amount to this year, Mr. Dougherty says. Peaches, however, from indications, will yield about 75 per cent of a normal crop. None of the other trees appear to have been hurt by the cold weather.

The gardening campaign, which has had such good results so far, should be followed up with a canning campaign, the farm agent declares, so that food may be preserved for winter consumption. Unless this is done much of the good accomplished by individual planting will go for naught.

SCHOOL BOYS WILL GET CREDITS FOR FARMING.

Ending of the school term this week in practically all the Fayette county farming districts relieves the school authorities of the necessity of applying a strict interpretation to the resolution passed by the state board of education and the governor's proclamation authorizing county school authorities to co-operate in the mobilization of boys and girls over 12 years old upon the farms.

County Superintendent of Schools John S. Carroll, however, issued a statement yesterday afternoon to the effect that he was in full sympathy with any movements projected to hasten the mobilization of state resources for the war with Germany. Any boy or girl in schools not closing this week who wishes to devote the remainder of the term to farm work will be given credits for such work, Mr. Carroll announced.

Any pupil coming under Mr. Carroll's direction may be released from further study this term by securing upon a permit card the signature of his parents or the farmer for whom he intends to work. What percentage of credit will be given pupils who complete the term by applying themselves to farm work has not been stated.

WOULD PUT CHAIN GANG FARMING, NOT SWEEPING.

Suggestions that the city chain gang be put to work at farming instead of cleaning the streets form the latest development in the gardening wave which has swept the community. The proposals range from mere suggestions that it would be well if the prisoners were put to work, somehow, at planting and caring for growing foodstuffs, to elaborate plans for establishing a city farm upon which the labor would be furnished entirely by street gang workers.

Most of the proposals are impractical in the extreme, but the general thought of city labor on farms may take root, and some plan that would work out may be proposed.

"Get the chain gang to work hoeing beans," John A. Gulfer said this morning. "The streets don't need to be so clean."

Plans to plant large quantities of beans are being made by several men of town. One man who knows a good bit about farming, however, discourages any efforts of this sort. The beans might be planted and cared for, he says, but when the harvest season comes, it will be almost impossible to gather such large quantities.

People who have always been interested in gardening are in high hopes that the present popularity of planting may continue, at least until the crops are harvested. "In other years," one man said today, "there was always a good interest in gardening during the planting season, but the interest would wane during the hot summer months, and the crops produced would consist of a fine bunch of weeds. This year, the patriotic stimulus is likely to keep the home farmers busy."

Men are working in all their spare hours on back yard gardens. City officials, including City Clerk A. O. Bixler, City Detective J. W. Mitchell, Street Commissioner William McCormick, Chief of Police B. Rottler and Patrolman D. H. Turner, all are planning elaborate gardens. One man is taking a week's vacation from his regular work to do his planting.

No further activity among the high school boys along gardening lines is reported. None of the boys have, as yet, announced their entry into the Clay Lynch prize contest for potato growing.

BARNHART CHAMPION FLAG RAISER; ATTORNEY W. N. CARR LEADS AS PATRIOTIC SPEAKER

Just how many flags Colonel J. J. Barnhart of Sunnyside has raised, and just how many patriotic speeches Hon. Woods N. Carr has made during the period of patriotic demonstrations which began when war with Germany was declared, is the subject of much conjecture. Unofficial estimates of the flag raisings at which these two men have officiated place the number at anywhere from a half a dozen to 25.

Colonel Barnhart began his flag raisings when the Elks held their rally and demonstration here. Following this the services of the Civil War veterans began to be in great demand. He has raised flags at towns throughout the county; at industrial plants and at private homes. He has even flung a banner to the breeze at his own home, Sunnyside. Colonel Barnhart says he likes nothing better than to send "Old Glory" to the top of a staff.

Mr. Carr's services have been hardly less necessary for flag raisings in this county. He, too, was present at Connellsville's big rally at the Elks' club, making the address of the evening. Since then, he has made speeches at a half dozen or more patriotic demonstrations in the larger towns and cities of the section.

The new unit endorsed the general officers, C. B. Sipe of Mill Run, president; T. D. Gardner, Bear Run, secretary; W. S. Colborn, Mill Run, treasurer. Another meeting will be held at Normalville on May 1.

Addresses were made by T. D. Gardner of Bear Run; W. S. Colborn of Mill Run, and others. Mill Run was represented by W. S. Colborn, Irvin Martin and George Colborn; the Bear Run delegation consisted of T. D. Gardner, Charles and Levi Tissue. From Saltlick township were H. R. Adams, Clyde Brooks and Henry Ritenour.

Branches of the league that is seeking to get an improved road from Connellsville to Farmington by way of Normalville, Mill Run, Bear Run and Ohiopyle, have now been organized at Bear Run, Ohiopyle, Mill Run and Normalville. One is to be formed in Connellsville, too.

NO INQUEST

Lack of Witnesses Prevents Probe Into Barnatt's Death.

Because of lack of witnesses, Coroner S. H. Baum may hold no inquest into the death of Andrew Barnatt, the Pittsburg & Lake Erie railroad watchman whose body was taken from the Yough river at Broad Ford yesterday morning and who, it is believed, was murdered and his body thrown into the stream.

Coroner Baum viewed the body yesterday and announced that the man met his death by drowning.

Funeral services for the murdered man were held this morning from St. Emory's church.

The reward of $50 offered by members of Barnatt's family for recovery of the body will be divided between Wildy Stillwagon and Orlando Richter of Broad Ford, who discovered the body and towed it ashore.

RED CROSS MEETING.

Parochial School Hall Scene of Membership Boosting Session.

An enthusiastic meeting was held last night in the Parochial school hall in the interest of the Red Cross Chapter in Connellsville. The main object of the meeting was to secure new members for the chapter, and while the meeting was largely attended, the majority of those present had already become members. In the absence of Mrs. H. J. Coll, a member of the executive committee, Miss Winnie Harrigan, of the membership committee, presided.

Rev. John T. Burns gave a short talk, explaining the object of the American Red Cross. About 25 new members were received.

PRICE OF ICE TO BE RAISED

Approximately 10 Cents a 100 Pounds Increase Decided on by Yough Ice & Storage Company.

The Yough Ice & Storage Company will make formal announcement tomorrow of an advance in the price of ice, effective May 1. Only the small consumer will be affected.

Twelve and a half pounds will cost 10 cents; 25 pounds, 15 cents; 50 pounds, 30 cents, and 100 pounds, 60 cents.

The aim, the management admits, is to get away from the 12½ pound block. This will be nearly doubled in price, from six to 10 cents. The claim is made by the management that the 12½ pound size is "no good to us nor to the buyer as it melts quickly."

The present rate per 100 pounds is 50 cents; the new rate is 60 cents.

The wholesale and platform prices will also be raised correspondingly on May 1, and a small discount will be allowed on a book if ice tickets.

The Yough Ice & Storage Company, which since its failure, is operated by four local banks, has a monopoly on the ice business in Connellsville.

RAISE FLAG.

Yough Brewery Workers Fling Old Glory to the Breeze.

A large American flag, purchased by employes of the Yough Brewery, was raised at 12.30 P. M. today on a pole erected on top of the main building of the plant.

The flag flies 150 feet in the air, the pole extending about 46 feet above the highest point on the main building.

Frank Patrick sent the flag to the top of the staff, and the employes of the brewery, all of whom had gathered about, saluted the national emblem.

The pastors doffed their coats and went to work with a will. The land is being plowed and after it is made ready for planting they will put in potatoes and corn.

FORM SISTERHOOD

Girls Organize to Encourage and Assist Sailors.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 25.—Evelyn Young is only nine years old, but she has started something. A few days ago Miss Evelyn wrote a scrawl to Chaplain Frank Thompson of the Great Lakes naval training station asking for the name of a sailor to whom she might be a "sister"—to write to him and send him home-made presents, even tobacco, while he was away fighting for his country.

As a result of that letter Chaplain Thompson and others today formed a society for sailors and named it the Evelyn Young Sisterhood. The organization is expected to become national in scope.

To Avoid Dandruff

You do not want a slow treatment for itching scalp when hair is falling and the dandruff germ is killing the hair roots. Delay means—no hair.

Get, at any drug store, a bottle of zemo for 25c or $1.00 for extra large size. Use as directed, for it does the work quickly. It kills the dandruff germ, nourishes the hair roots and immediately stops itching scalp. It is a pure, reliable, antiseptic liquid, is not greasy, is easy to use and will not stain. Soaps and shampoos are harmful, as they contain alkali. The best thing to use for scalp irritations is zemo, for it is safe and also inexpensive.

BIG PROFITS FOR U. S. STEEL

Earnings for First Quarter of 1916 Total $113,131,018, Exceeding Some Entire Years.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 25.—All previous high records in the history of the United States Steel Corporation, both as to earnings and dividends, were surpassed in the first quarterly report for the current year issued yesterday.

Earnings reached the enormous total of $113,121,018, more than the corporation has earned in a full year in some instances, and an extra dividend of 3 per cent was declared on the common stock, in addition to the regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on that issue and 1¾ per cent on the preferred. The disbursement on the common amounts to more than $21,602,000.

The 3 per cent extra is an increase of 1¾ per cent over the extra dividend declared in the previous quarter and an increase of 2 per cent over those of the second and third quarters of last year. It makes up, with about 1 per cent to spare, for the fourth quarter of 1914 and the same quarter of 1915, when poor earnings caused a complete suspension of disbursements on the common stock.

The three months' total earnings of $113,121,018 are an increase of $7,152,671 over the final quarter of last year and net incomes of $103,330,-994 represents a gain of $7,008,584. The surplus for the quarter was $69,-536,981, which is only a slight increase because of the extra sum required to pay the enlarged common dividend.

On the basis of these figures, earnings on the common stock were at the annual rate of about $72 per share, as against $66.50 in the December quarter and slightly less than 50 per cent in the September quarter.

March was the banner month of the first quarter, earnings amounting to $43,680,422, against $33,410,171 in the shorter month of February and $36,074,425 in January. Regarding trade prospects, Chairman Elbert H. Gary said after today's meeting of the board of directors:

"There is no let-up in general trade conditions. Prices have a tendency to advance."

CITY IS HEALTHY

Little Rubbish to be Found and Contagious Diseases Are Few.

Connellsville has been cleaner of rubbish and has had less disease during the first four months of 1917 than for years, judging by the few reports of contagious diseases to the Board of Health. With Spring clean-up time at hand, and Health Officer George Hetzel serving notices where they are needed, the city will have an excellent start on which to base a good health record for the year.

Only one case of measles and one of mumps have been reported to the health authorities so far, and diphtheria and scarlet fever cases have not been prevalent as formerly. Last year there was an epidemic of measles.

Health Officer George Hetzel will soon finish up the serving of clean-up notices. In some instances it is necessary to serve these notices personally in order to get the cleanup enforced, but with the increasing food production movement taking hold, many are cleaning up back lots for planting purposes. Notices concerning garbage and other clauses of the health ordinance have been posted on bill boards and poles all over the city, and the authorities are determined to see that they are carried out.

HOW FAT FOLKS MAY BECOME SLIM

Fat persons will be interested to learn that they may easily reduce their weight without starvation diet or tiresome exercise. Eat all you need, but chew your food thoroughly, so that you will not overtax your assimilative organs, get fresh air and take a few drops of oil of korein four times a day.

Oil of korein (five drops to the capsule) may be obtained from the druggist. This preparation is absolutely harmless, pleasant to take and is purposed (in connection with the other simple directions) to reduce fatty accumulations in the system.

If you would like to obtain a test of oil of korein free, by mail, with an interesting booklet, write to Korein Company, 137-C, Arcade, East 28th street, New York, N. Y. The free booklet is entitled: "Reduce Weight Happily," and will delight you. How to reduce puffy abdomen, double chin, large limbs, obese hips and other overstout parts of the body.

Even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight. Footsteps become lighter; the skin more firm and smoother in appearance, work seems easier, and a more buoyant feeling takes possession of the whole being as superfluous and unhealthy fat disappears.

If you are ten to sixty pounds over normal weight, you should give this treatment a trial. You will probably find that it's just what you need. A steady and very satisfactory reduction may be expected.—Adv.

After TODAY it will be useless to write for the booklet describing the Encyclopaedia Britannica

To get this booklet, read it, make up your mind and get your order in in time for one of the last sets

You Must Send This Coupon TODAY

The remaining sets of the "Handy Volume" Issue of the new Encyclopaedia Britannica, printed on genuine India paper, are so few that the last one will be sold before you can send for the descriptive literature, have time to read it, decide about buying and get your order back to us unless you sign and send the coupon TODAY.

For ten days we have been saying that after April 25th there would be no use in writing for information. Today is April 25th. And unless you write today and get the free, illustrated descriptive book that will tell you exactly what the Britannica is and what it will do for you to make your life bigger and broader and to increase your knowledge, thus increasing your earning power, you may as well save the postage.

We want no one to order a set of the "Handy Volume" Britannica unless he knows it will be useful to him.

To know, you should have the book that tells about this wonderful work. After today it will be folly to write for it and folly for us to send the literature to you because the last set will be sold before you can study the information and get your order in.

To write for this information and thus have an opportunity to know just what the Britannica will bring into your life in the way of practical help for everyday problems and answers to every question concerning your work is the most worth-while thing you can do today.

Very shortly we will announce the date of the last day we can accept orders for the Britannica. Our stock is almost exhausted. When sets on hand are sold your chance is gone forever.

We could easily sell many thousands more sets if we could get them. But we cannot get even one more set. This is not our fault nor the publishers'. They cannot get any more genuine India paper at any price. No more can be made because two important raw materials—flax from Belgium, Germany or Ireland and hemp from Russia—are absolutely unobtainable and there is no substitute for them.

Whether you have been considering buying the Britannica or not, send for the descriptive booklet today. Learn what the Britannica is. Give this immediate thought so that later on you will have no cause to say, "I wish I had known what a wonderful work the Britannica is in time to have ordered a set."

Put everything else aside for one moment. Sign the attached coupon and get it into the mail NOW while you are thinking about it.

Thousands of persons are going to be disappointed when this sale closes, and those people will be the ones who, while really wanting the Britannica, fail to realize that now is the time to decide and get their orders in.

Note this—the set (29 volumes) is yours to use and profit by while you are paying for it. You only have to send $1.00 with order, to be followed by monthly payments of $3.00 (for the cloth binding) for a limited number of months.

You can see sets of the Britannica and leave orders at:

ALWAYS BEEN PATRIOTS.

The first real division in Congress, arising from the measures which the President desires for the conduct of the war, is that which is now being manifested in the debate over the army bill. This division had its inception in the House Committee on Military Affairs when that body was preparing to make its report upon the "selective draft" provision, a measure which all men who have had experience or are able to profit by the experience of England in the present war, are agreed will produce most speedily the best kind of an army.

All Democratic members of the committee, save three, refused to support the President in his demand that the draft provision be incorporated in the bill. All of the Republican members of the committee, save two, supported the President. Among the Democratic dissenters were the Southern chairman of the committee; and of the three who stood by the President only one came from south of the Mason and Dixon line. The two Republican dissenters hail from the middle west, where the public mind is not yet receptive to the truth that the country was "stung" when it voted for Mr. Wilson on the assurance that he would "keep us out of war." Of the Republican members of the committee none have been more consistent in their advocacy and support of President Wilson's "selective draft" provision than Congressman Crago, former representative of our district and now one of the representatives at large from Pennsylvania. He had experience during the Spanish American war, as had three of his colleagues on the committee, and they are a unit in demanding the enactment of the bill in the form embodied in the minority report.

The division which exists in this committee, and has became still more manifest by the debate on the army bill in the House, shows that a lot of time and effort are being wasted in the more or less frantic appeals which are being made to Republicans to "support the President." Republicans need no urging to support the nation, if that means, at the same time, to support the policies the President advocates. The real field for missionary effort is, however, in the Democrat party. The Democratic editors and orators who are clamoring for the elimination of party lines and for united "support of the President," should abandon their wholly unnecessary labors with the Republicans and turn their attention to the faithless, perverse and disloyal in their own ranks.

The Republicans have never been anything but patriots. They stood beside Abraham Lincoln in those dark hours when dismemberment of the union was sought. They backed up the vigorous demand of Grover Cleveland when he told England how the Venezuelan matter must be settled. They held up the hands of President Harrison when Italy talked about reprisals for the execution of the Mafian bandits in New Orleans. Today they are sustaining President Wilson in a great national crisis. They will continue to do their full duty by the country and thereby furnish an example worthy to be followed by those Democrats who would exalt politics above patriotism.

IRISH LOOK TO AMERICA.

At that London celebration of the entry of the United States into the war, Englishmen are not the only persons to bear eloquent tribute to the lofty purpose of our country in declaring that liberty, freedom and justice must be permanently established among the nations and peoples of the earth. John Dillon, the famous Irish statesman and leader, speaking in behalf of the Irish Nationalists, said:

> The full meaning of the entry of America into the struggle is difficult to describe. It is not like the entrance of the other allies, but has a more mighty significance to the whole civilized world. To bring the United States into the war was to make them as against one of the deepest instincts of the soul of the race.
> The presence of the United States at the peace conference is a sign of hope and an assurance of liberty. Her voice will be heard when the settlement comes and Ireland knows that on that day she will have a firm and sure friend who will not desert Ireland. To America will fall the blessed task of bringing peace upon liberty.

Until we were forced into the war many Irishmen were more or less disposed to view the attitude of the United States with a certain distrust, if not distaste also; presumably because they believed that our interests and sympathies lay only with England. Now they, and the whole world, know that our country will prosecute the war in the interests of humanity and the preservation of the rights and liberties of all peoples, and not for selfish purposes of our own or any other nation.

May the expectations of what America can accomplish be realized no less fully for the loyal sons of Erin than for the equally loyal sons of other lands who have not known liberty in the larger sense that we enjoy it.

VAE VICTIS!

(Woe to the Vanquished.)

Henry Watterson in Louisville Courier-Journal.

There are times when feeling must be sent to the rear; when duty must toe the line; when the aversion brave men have for fighting must yield to the adjuration, "Give me liberty, or give me death!" That time is now upon us.

Unless Patrick Henry was wrong—unless Washington and the men of the Revolution were wrong, that time is upon us. It is a lie to pretend that the world is better than it was; that men are truer, wiser; that war is escapable; that peace may be had for the planning and the asking. The situation which without any act of ours rises before us is as exigent as that which rose before the Colonists in America when a mad English King, claiming to rule without accountability, asserted the right divine of Kings and sent an army to enforce it. A mad German Emperor, claiming partnership with God, again elevates the standard of right divine and bids the world to worship, or die.

From the beginning the issue was not less ours than of the countries first engaged. Each may have had ends of its own to serve. Nor were these ends precisely alike. At least France—to whom we owe all that we have of sovereignty and freedom—and Belgium, the little David of nations—fought to resist invasion; wanton, cruel invasion; to avert slavery, savage, pitiless slavery. Yet, whatever the selfish interests of England and Russia and Italy—the Kaiser scheme of world conquest justified it.

In us it sanctifies it. Why should any American split hairs over the European rights and wrongs involved when he sees before him grim and ghastly the mailed figure of Absolutism with hand uplifted to strike Columbia where these three years she has stood pleading for justice, peace and mercy? God of the free heart's hope and home forbid!

Each of these three years the German Kaiser was making war upon us. He was making war secretly through his emissaries in destruction of our industries, secretly through his diplomats plotting not merely foreign but civil war against us, as we now know, seeking to foment servile and racial insurrection; then openly upon the high seas levying murder upon our people and visiting all our rights and claims with scorn and insult—with scorn and insult unspeakable—at this moment pretending to flout us with gloating and contempt. Where would the honest pacifist draw the line?

Surely the time has arrived—many of us think it was long since overdue—for calling the braves to the colors. Nations must e'en take stock on occasion and manhood come to a showdown. It is but a truism to say so.

Fifty years the country has enjoyed surpassing prosperity. This has overcommercialized the character and habits of the people. Twenty-five years the gospel of pacifism, with "business is business" for its text, has not only been preached—indiscriminately—oracularly—without let or hindrance, but has been richly financed and potentially organized. It has established a party. It has made a cult, justifying itself in a fad it has called Humanity—in many ways a most spurious humanity—and has set this above and against patriotic inclination and duty.

Like a bolt out of the blue flashed the war signal from the very heart of Europe. Across the Atlantic its reverberations rolled to find us divided, neutral and unprepared. For 15 years a body German reservists disguised as citizens has been marching and counter-marching. They grew at length bold enough to rally to the support of a pan-German scheme of conquest and a pro-German propaganda of "kultur," basing its chicanery in the German-American vote, which began its agitation by threatening us with civil war if we dared to go to war with Germany. There followed the assassin sea monsters and the airship campaign of murder.

All the while we looked on with either simpering idiocy or dazed apathy. Serbia? It was no affair of ours. Belgium? Why should we worry? Foodstuffs spurting—warstuffs roaring—everybody making money—the mercenary, the poor of heart, the mean of spirit, the bleak and barren of soul, could still plead the hypocrisy of Uplift and chortle: "I did not raise my boy to be a soldier." Even the "Lusitania" did not awaken us to a sense of danger and arouse us from the stupefaction of ignorant and ignoble self-complacency.

First of all on bended knee we should pray God to forgive us. Then erect as men, Christian men, soldierly men, to the flag and the fray—wherever they lead us—over the ocean—through France to Flanders—across the Low Countries to Koln, Bonn and Koblenz—tumbling the fortress of Ehrenbreitstein into the Rhine as we pass and damming the mouth of the Mozelle with the debris of the ruin we make of it—then on, on to Berlin, the Black Horse Cavalry sweeping the Wilhelmstrasse like lava down the mountainside, the Junker and the saber rattler flying before us, the tunes being "Dixie" and "Yankee Doodle," the cry being, "Hail the French Republic—Hail the Republic of Russia—welcome the Commonwealth of the Vaterland—no peace with the Kaiser—no parley with Autocracy, Absolutism and the divine right of Kings."

THE POTATO GAME.

The offer of a local banking institution to finance the boy farmers who may lack funds to buy seed, fertilizer, etc., to participate in the Clay Lynch potato raising contest, removes almost the last obstacle in the way of accepting the proposal.

A number of the high school boys have already made engagements for the summer's work after the close of school which will prevent them from giving time to the contest. There are a number who are not so engaged and upon them will rest the obligation of accepting Mr. Lynch's offer, as it ought also be their willingness to avail themselves of the opportunity to take part in a wholly new but fascinating game.

One boy has already planted more ground in potatoes than the conditions of the contest require and he can testify that it is not so much of a task as others would believe. He is going in for a prize and in a spirit that ought to land him a winner. Other boys should not fall behind their energetic schoolmate in tackling the job.

Again we urge, Get into the potato game, boys!

If the bomb-placers who attempted to blow up the Italian patriots of Mount Pleasant think their dastardly outrage has lessened the patriotism of their intended victims, they do not know how deeply the love of America has become rooted in the hearts of those loyal citizens who were born under the skies of sunny Italy.

With the old Tenth veterans ready to get back into the war game after 18 years of peaceful occupations this may not be a "young men's war" after all.

This is a rather late date upon which to begin preparation for a celebration of "France Day," which has been designated for tomorrow, but we can remind ourselves of the debt of gratitude we owe that nation for a neighborly act performed back in 1778-9.

The work of the Red Cross is a good subject for sermons and it ought to bring out some good ones.

It seems almost unbelievable that a man in America could commit, as is alleged, the diabolical crime of saturating a woman's clothing with kerosene then setting fire to it. That sounds more like some of the weird tales from the European rumor factories.

Moving trains are the only real foes the National Guardsmen have met on their present duty.

With the deadlock on the control of the state's war fund out of the way the legislature should now take the bill on high and finish up the business of the session without any more punctures or blowouts.

Connellsville young men should not allow all the vacancies in Company D to be filled with equally patriotic applicants from out of town.

The great Spring Push—pushing the lawn mower—is on.

Rumor has it that a family conference of the Hohenzollerns suggested to Emperor William that he abdicate while the abdicating is good.

Now that Harvey, the Austrian pacifist, has become a member of the aviation corps he will have a chance to show that he is a "way-up" fighter.

Rippling Rhymes

UNLUCKY PATRIOT.

When civil war raged o'er the land, I was but two feet high, yet eagerly I wished to stand, a howitzer in either hand, and for my country die. But sternly then my elders said, "You are too young to fight; don't think or dream of carnage red, but drop your toys and go to bed and in that bed sleep tight." Again I hear of war's alarms, much talk of sturdy blows, the battlefield for me has charms, and I would like to carry arms, and swat my country's foes. But when I speak of this, my aim, the captains cry, "Nay, nay! You are too ancient for the game, go buy yourself a quilting frame, or help the girls crochet." So if our battleships shall meet the foe upon the briny, or if on land the armies meet, I shall not kill men and repeat, the laglenook is mine. They ought to let a fellow fight who wants to bear a gun, e'en though his kidneys are not right, and though his scanty locks are white, and though he weighs a ton. But no, alas! they choose their men, rejecting able lads because one fellow has a wen, and one's too old to fight again, and some wear liver pads.

THE PROMISSORY NOTE.

The promissory note is a scrap of paper which draws interest from the first and sometimes draws blood at the last.

The most sublime mission of the promissory note, at the present writing, is to enable people to buy the perishable, red-wheeled automobile and run the same for a year without worrying about the condition of the money market. There is no easier or more satisfactory way in the world to secure a new automobile containing an eight-day clock and a ninety-day guarantee than to sign a small, unobstructive promissory note which falls due a year after with a report like firing a toy cannon in the cellar. The nonchalant intrepidity with which thousands of men who are only two jumps ahead of a mechanic's lien buy touring cars with an 8 per cent note and a hopeful look shows that when it comes to raw-boned courage America has no competition.

Of all the methods of staving off cash payment in the hope that death will ensue in the interim the promissory note method is the most popular. It is a simple and reliable way of getting into debt up to the shoulder-blades, and on that account is resorted to with cheerful regularity by people who would rather help the bank accumulate a surplus than have one of their own. The banks do not encourage the reckless and indiscriminate use of the promissory note unless there is some collateral in sight besides a mission oak dining table and a solemn promise.

Some men prefer to give a promissory note to some life insurance company, so that when they die and pass hence their wives will have nothing left but a fragrant memory. Others would rather sign a note for a dear relative who is in poor health and may never be able to collect the interest. Any kind of note however, is equipped with ball-bearing running gear which causes the interest dates to whirl around the track faster than the winner of the 2.02 pace.

CAMPAIGN TO GET MORE MEMBERS FOR RED CROSS BRANCH

Between 400 and 500 Enrolled in Scottdale But This Is Not Considered Enough.

HALF HOLIDAYS AGREED ON

Stores Will Close Wednesday Afternoon of Each Week During June, July and August: Meeting Shows Only One Business Will Not Close.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTTDALE, April 25.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the Red Cross held yesterday at the Y. M. C. A. reports were submitted showing that the membership in the auxiliary is between 400 and 500. Inasmuch as leaders in the movement thought this was not enough for a town the size of Scottdale it was decided to inaugurate a membership campaign.

Mrs. J. P. K. Miller and Mrs. J. P. Brennen were named a committee on supplies and distribution.

Dr. J. P. K. Strickler read a resolution the Physicians' Round Table adopted recently expressing the doctors' willingness to assist the Red Cross by giving First Aid instruction. Classes are to be formed and a series of 10 lessons given.

Miss Lillian Conwell, domestic science teacher in the high school, offered her services as instructor in dietetics.

Needle In Hand.

Miss Elizabeth Werkman, daughter of Edward Werkman of Hawkeye, ran a needle into the soft part of her hand while sewing last Friday. At first it gave her no trouble but yesterday she was compelled to come to Scottdale and have it removed by Dr. J. P. Strickler. It has turned black, but no infection was noticeable.

Merchants to Close.

All Scottdale merchants except one have agreed to close their stores Wednesday afternoon during June, July and August this year, following a recent meeting to discuss the matter. Another meeting is to be held next Monday night and it is thought that all merchants may be induced to join in the movement. Other years the half holidays were given only in July and August.

Pechin.

PECHIN, April 25.—Miss Violet Hardy of Furnace hill, was visiting her friends, Misses Thelma Carr and Margaret Senor of Keffers station, Sunday.

The family of Herbert Baker of Keffers station had a fine mess of radishes from their garden Tuesday night.

Edward Lehman of Keffers station, has recently had his warden plowed by Charles Bryner of Pechin. He will be able to plant it after the ground gets dry.

Mrs. S. R. Herrington of Uniontown, was visiting friends at Keffers Shoppers Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry McClain of Evans station, were visiting relatives at Pechin over Sunday.

Herman Carr of Ferguson, while riding his motorcycle Sunday, lost the rear license tag.

Miss Isa McDowell of Pechin, was a Connellsville shopper Monday.

Mrs. Isaac Ball and Mrs. H. L. Brown of Pechin, were Connellsville shoppers SCaturday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Shilley, Misses Gladdis Miller and Thelma Carr, and George Leapline and John Hughes of Keffers, were out riding in the former's auto, Saturday.

Mrs. S. K. Eicher of Pechin, was in Connellsville shopping Monday.

Mrs. Arthur McCusker, Mrs. M. K. Kearney, Mrs. John McGarrity, Mrs. J. M. Staholm and Mrs. J. K. McGarrity of Church Hill, were at Connellsville shopping this week.

Arthur Younkin of Church hill, moved from the house of the Furnace company to the house of Mrs. McGill, Tuesday.

Andrew Mador moved into his new home at Pechin last week and has opened his storeroom which in addition to furnishing groceries, notions and confections will be used as a West Penn waiting room. This relieves the necessity of maintaining the present station building, and it is the desire of the many patrons of the company at Keffers that the old station building will be placed at Keffers station where a shelter for passengers has been badly needed for the past 10 years. Another thing needed badly at Keffers station is a light. The path leading from the stop to the public road is steep and difficult, not to say dangerous to travel in the dark. A station building and a light would be greatly appreciated by the people of that section and their many visiting friends, including also the doctors who care for the health of the community.

DEMONSTRATION OF

THE "DIRECT ACTION" OVEN HEAT REGULATOR

She will show you how you can Vanish Drudgery from the Kitchen, Cut Out the Pot Watching and make "EVERY AFTERNOON An AFTERNOON OFF"

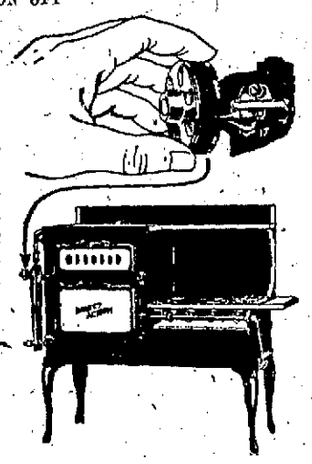

A WHOLE MEAL THAT COOKS ITSELF

Mrs. Linabury will make a complete demonstration of "Low Temperature Cooking" (which is only practical with the Oven Heat Regulator). She will place a meal—including a roast, vegetables and dessert—in the oven at 10.30 A. M., and after allowing it to cook unattended for four hours, she will remove it at 2.30 P. M.

Go out and enjoy the afternoon, supper will be ready when you return.

You are invited to be present and taste the cooking thus convincing yourself that the Oven Heat Regulator not only eliminates an immense amount of kitchen drudgery, but produces delicious results that will rival the work of the best chef. You will marvel to discover what a juicy, toothsome morsel can be made from a cheap, stringy cut of meat, so tender and luscious that it can't be served with a spoon.

Don't trust to luck in baking. The Oven Heat Regulator gives you any temperature you desire.

KEEP ON YOUR PRETTY GOWN

This wonderful method of cooking a whole meal unwatched, means that you keep on your dainty frock after a pleasant afternoon at the matinee, at the club or visiting. You don't have to change your dress to get supper when you get home, because the Oven Regulator has cooked a meal unattended for you while you were away, and all you have to do is to serve it at once—just as if you had a high priced cook to do the work in your absence.

FORTY-FIVE MINUTES TO PREPARE A MEAL—THEN AN ENJOYABLE AFTERNOON OFF

The complete, but simple, directions in the Menu Book that accompanies each Regulator Range enables you to prepare a full meal in about forty-five minutes with no preliminary cooking or preparation on the top burners. You place the entire meal in the oven, and then put on your best dress and

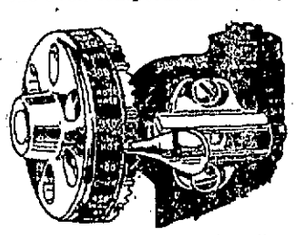

Go Out and Enjoy the Beautiful Afternoon Supper Will Be Ready When You Return

NO WORRY—NO GUESSWORK WHEN YOU BAKE

With the Regulator there is no guessing at the oven temperature when you bake. You ALWAYS KNOW what the oven heat is when you bake and ALWAYS KNOW that you have the SAME temperature each time you bake.

The use of the Regulator is very simple. It has a marked wheel that gives the different oven temperatures by name or degree (whichever you prefer). All you do is set the wheel, light the burner and LEAVE IT ALONE. The Regulator will automatically and wizard-like adjust the flow of gas to maintain the exact degree of heat you desire.

You actually MEASURE THE HEAT just as easily as you measure milk in a cup. You don't watch a thermometer to see what the heat is. You, instead, adjust the wheel and obtain the heat you want—MEASURE IT—you understand. This means that your baking becomes marvelously successful because every day is a LUCKY DAY when you bake as your oven heat is always right.

You Set the Wheel and Light the Burners, THAT'S ALL.

ENDORSED BY EXPERTS

The Regulator has been tested and endorsed by the experts

Good Housekeeping Institute,
New York Tribune Institute,
Forecast Magazine Home Efficiency Station.

Also, all Domestic Science authorities that have tested the Regulator approve it with words of enthusiastic praise. For instance, Miss Emma Hanko, the well known lecturer and authority on cookery, says, "The more I use the Regulator the more I find it INDISPENSABLE." So, accordingly, will you find the Regulator indispensable and wonder, like thousands of other delighted housewives, how you ever got along without it.

DON'T MISS THE DEMONSTRATION

You owe it to yourself to see how the Regulator will preserve your youth and comeliness by cutting down your kitchen work.

SOISSON THEATRE.

"SUSAN'S GENTLEMAN."—Today is Bluebird Day and Violet Mersereau will be featured in the five reel drama, "Susan's Gentleman." "The woman scorned" plays an important part in the progress of the narrative. Because Sir Boris Neville Croyden, mistress of Croyden Hall had cast aside the love of Ora Tourette, a fascinating and scheming French widow, Ora designed to be revenged. Therefore, she aided Nancy in an adventure with her groom, resulting in Nancy eloping with her servant to America, and filling her aristocratic father's heart with bitterness. Then the real "human interest" begins, with the arrival of a baby girl in a New York tenement, Nancy Croyden passing away to give life to Susan Flynn, as a heritage of a romantic and mad marriage. "Uncle John's Money," a two reel Rex drama will also be shown. Friday Charlie Chaplin will be featured in the two reel comedy, "The Heart Thief." Saturday Robert Warwick, Doris Kenyon, Chester Barnett, June Elvidge, Johnny Hines, all well known stars of the World program, will be shown in the five reel drama, "A Girl's Folly." Tomorrow, "The Mutilated Hand," the second episode of the interesting serial "The Yellow Menace," will be shown.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"HER FATHER'S KEEPER."—A new Triangle play starring Irene Howley and a two reel Keystone comedy, are being presented today. In "Her Father's Keeper," Miss Howley as Claire Masters, motherless daughter of a powerful and dominating financier, is kept in the rut of society by her strong willed father, who believes that women are out of place in the business world or any of the real activities of life. But Claire has inherited much of her father's initiative strength of will and, finding the life of the society butterfly utterly empty, revolts. Her revolt is increased by the contents of a letter left for her by her dead mother, in which Mrs. Masters warns her daughter that the financier needs guarding against himself; that in the heat of business battle there was always a danger of overstepping the bounds and doing something that would compromise the family's good name. Claire breaks with her obdurate father and goes out into the world to learn the business game. In this she is helped by Ralph Burnham, son of a rival house and the one man who counts in Claire's life. In a crucial time in the affairs of Masters, Claire, prepared for a thorough schooling, secures a position in the office of her father and during his absence manages, under an assumed name, to get herself appointed to his private secretary. On his return he finds himself assisted by the daughter he had sworn never to speak to if she left the parental roof. The dates of "The Crisis," to appear at the Paramount, have been changed from May 9 and 10 to May 16 and 17.

ORPHEUM THEATRE.

"SISTER AGAINST SISTER"—The William Fox drama featuring the versatile and popular screen actress, Virginia Pearson, will be shown today only. It is the story of a home broken up by parents' quarrel and separates two sisters. On of them is thrown among slums to become a social vulture and the other grows up to be a good and pure woman. Never has the power of environment to perfect or deform a nation's children been shown with such vivid force as in this drama. Miss Pearson also wears some rare gems in this feature. "Uncle Sam's Defenders" No. 2 will also be shown. Tomorrow, "Sunny Jane," a five part production, with a love story and a wealth of incidental material—an ideal vehicle for this frolicking tomboy star. Jackie Saunders will take you back to your childhood days when you used to spell out words on your fingers behind mother's back. To anyone brought up on the farm or loving farm life "Sunny Jane" will bring a pang of homesickness and a longing for the simple life. There are scenes of cattle in the fields, of flocks of sheep, goats, chickens, hay mounds stacked high and all that goes with a well kept farm. "Patria" No. 13, featuring Mrs. Vernon Castle, will also be shown.

SPINACH.

Spinach is a cool weather crop, says today's bulletin from the National Emergency Garden Commission in its course of garden instruction for readers of The Courier. This means you must plant it early if the hot weather of summer is not to come along and make your spinach go to seed before it has justified its occupancy of good garden space.

It is, however, the best, the most popular and the most prolific of all the garden plants grown for greens. The taste for greens is strongest in the early spring and late fall and winter when green vegetables are hard to get, so that spinach fits right in with this demand.

Spinach likes rich soil to force its luxuriant growth. If you have any fertilizer to use in your garden, be sure to put some in the spinach bed. Particularly the plant likes nitrogen and those who can afford it can improve their spinach crop by scattering a little nitrate of soda between the rows.

The plant also demands plenty of water—doing best in cool damp weather. Hot weather and dry soil stunt its growth.

For spring planting buy round seeds of spinach. The other variety of spinach seeds is the prickly kind, and it is most suitable for fall planting in mild climates. Plant the seeds thickly an inch deep in rows one foot apart. An ounce of seed is enough for 100 feet of row.

Usually it is not wise to thin spinach out by pulling the seedlings. As soon as the plant has formed a rosette of well-developed leaves it is ready for use. Then by pulling the mature plants, or cutting them off with a knife just below the surface of the ground, you will give the ones that were crowded a chance to grow large and keep up the supply. The first plants will be ready for use about a month after the sowing, and the crop will continue to mature for about 30 days.

Where is the Fire?

Come with us to the telephone central office after an alarm of fire has sounded.

Should we undertake to answer fire-information calls, there would be several hundred people calling at almost the same moment to ask where the fire is located, the switchboard would be a blaze of signal lights, and our operators would be quite unable to distinguish legitimate calls, particularly those of an emergency nature, from those of a purely curious nature.

That the service may be kept at a high standard always, we ask that you co-operate with us and with each other, and refrain from asking our operators the location of fires.

Walter Johnson, Whitewash Expert, Usually Wins His Opening Game

Photos by American Press Association.

WALTER JOHNSON of the Washington Senators is the American league's greatest whitewashing expert, as well as its most successful opening day pitcher. In the last seven years he has won six opening games for Washington and lost only one. In the seven games he held opposing teams to seven runs and thirty-one hits for the anaemic batting average of .138. When Johnson shut out the Athletics on the opening day of this season he did his sixty-sixth calcimining job, and so leads the American league. Eddie Plank comes next with sixty-two and Ed Walsh third with fifty-eight runless games to his credit.

RUTGERS PUSHES SPORTS.

Athletic Work Being Developed as Aid to Military Training.

One hundred athletes of Rutgers college, New Brunswick, N. J., have formed a company and volunteered their services to the Home Defense league of that city in case of need. Rutgers students are all undergoing strenuous military training and are being whipped into shape for war service, but athletics at the college are being developed further than ever as an aid to this war training.

Only two games, Columbia and Georgetown, have been formally canceled from the Rutgers baseball schedule owing to the war situation, and the Princeton game is doubtful, but the rest of the schedule will be played out unless there is a call for men before the end of the present college year. In that event the schedule will be abandoned. Diplomas will be granted all seniors who volunteer, and other students will be considered as having passed the work of the present year.

Track and tennis as well as baseball are being developed, and a special effort is being made to get all the students of the college into active participation.

WE HAVE BEST JUMPERS.

English Schoolboys Do Not Go In Intensively For Field Sport.

The latest budget of athletic news from London includes an item to the effect that Philip of Harrow had set a new English interscholastic record for the running high jump at 5 feet 9 inches. This does not compare very favorably with the American interscholastic mark of 6 feet 3⅝ inches, credited to Wesley Oler when he was at Pawling.

The difference between the British and American high jump records is quite a true index to the general superiority of our schoolboy athletes over the English. While the men from Oxford and Cambridge generally can give our best college athletes a good contest, the status of scholastic athletes in the tight little isle is far inferior to that here. The English schoolboys do not go in as intensively for track and field sports as do the youths of our schools. The English schoolboy athlete is more of a general performer.

ENTIRE TEAM ENLISTS.

Every Member of Club Heeds the Call to Join Country's Forces.

An entire baseball team has left a church league in Cook county, Ill., to enlist for service with the national guard. Six members of the team representing the Bethlehem Norwegian Lutheran church have enlisted in the First Illinois cavalry, four others are preparing to follow them, and the manager of the team, Karl Peterson, a former navy man, has announced his intention of returning to the navy as a gun pointer.

Albert Christenson, shortstop of the baseball team, was unable to qualify for enlistment because of his weight, but his companions fed him bananas and water until he acquired enough weight to pass the examination.

GEN. WOOD FAVORS RACING.

Declares Country Is Sadly In Need of Right Kind of Cavalry Horses.

A letter from Major General Leonard Wood to August Belmont, chairman of the Jockey club of New York, was made public recently. Mr. Belmont's reply was also given out. The subject of both communications was the relation of racing as a sport to the war and the effect of the war upon the breeding of thoroughbreds for military purposes.

In his letter General Wood expressed the fear that the recent fire at Belmont park might further interfere with the development of thoroughbreds. He declared that the country is sorely in need of the right kind of cavalry horse and added that the government's stable is for the most part composed of mongrel animals incapable of giving proper service on the field of battle.

In his reply to General Wood Mr. Belmont said that he believed that it was of utmost importance to continue racing during the war "not as an entertainment and sport for our community, although that is not a wholly negligible reason, but because, as you very rightly say, 'there never was a time in the history of the country when we were more in need of the right kind of horse for military purposes.'"

TENNISERS JOIN ARMY.

Cracks Elect to Fight For Uncle Sam Instead of For Titles.

Several of the ranking tennis players of the east are preparing for military service and may lay aside the racket for the rifle. R. Norris Williams II., national singles champion, is preparing at Governors Island, New York, for service with the artillery.

George M. Church, who eliminated Kumagae, the Japanese champion, last autumn in the national tournament, has given up all idea of titular play and is studying for the aviation corps. Dean Mathey, Watson M. Washburn and Karl H. Behr are preparing for examinations for commissions. Other players of fame have entered or soon will enter service, thus eliminating themselves from tournament competition this summer.

Horse Racing Despite War.

Horse racing is one of the sports that continues in times of war. Last year, despite the European war, Russia, Italy and Austria had successful seasons, while racing flourished in the British colonies, Canada and Australia.

BILLY SUNDAY GETS A PASS.

Former Ball Player Remembered by President of National League.

Billy Sunday received a season pass from John K. Tener, president of the National league, and the baseball community of New York will be glad to learn that Mr. Sunday intends to make use of it.

The gift from the National league head was tendered in the spirit of appreciation for what Mr. Sunday has done for the national game. In 1883 the famous revivalist was a big league outfielder in Chicago. John K. Tener was a pitcher on the Boston team in the same circuit, and the occasions were many when they faced each other on the diamond.

The Boy's Summer Suit
What Our Service Means

With our boys' clothing buyers the keynote of the boys' supplies is best styles, fabrics, and linings. A suit may look well, but if it isn't built of the right sort of fabrics, if it hasn't the right kind of linings, it soon loses its good air. The smart lines fade. The mere surface appearance of quality disappears. Our buyers are enthusiastic about boys' clothing. They know while a boy may pretend not to care much about clothes, and growl a lot about having to brush his hair and blacken his shoes and tie his tie right deep down in his heart he likes to look as well as the other boys, so they pick out styles that they think a boy will look well in. Serges, cheviots, cassimeres, worsteds, tweeds, in the most alluring, quietly smart patterns. A boy couldn't help but throw his shoulders back and walk with a sturdier air of self-respect in these fabrics. At once they make him feel "set-up." An almost black-gray cheviot, with broken "flecky" lines of white is a beauty. So is the stunning Englishy looking pattern in brownish checks. A brown-eyed boy would look fine in it. Every fabric has individuality in one way or another. Then there are suits with two pair of trousers. Parents don't need to take them. We break the suit if you wish, but every suit should have two pairs. Hats? Yes. We have got in some felt hats the boys are wild about. They are like dad's hat. Then, too, the boys can pinch them up any way they like. Some crush them to look like Boy Scout hats. These hats come in gray, blue, brown, green and other colors, and prices are reasonable. We want the boys to know that our clothing buyers have taken much pains to get summer goods to please and suit them. We also want them to know that we have very excellent wearing shoes—fashionable styles.

PETEY DINK—If Anything Happens They'll Keep It Quiet. By C. A. Voight.

From the Darkness and the Depths

A Sea Tale Worthy of Edgar Allan Poe

From the New Story Magazine, New York.

I secured an iron bolt and thrust it inside his shirt and we hove him overboard at once for, in the presence of this horror we were not in the mood for a burial service. There we were eleven men on a waterlogged hulk adrift on a heaving greasy sea and an invisible thing forward that might seize any of us at any moment it chose in the water or out for I rank had been caught and dragged down.

"Still I ordered the men to remain on the poop and to expect no hot meals as we could subsist for a time on the canned food in the storeroom and larder. While the professor went down into his flooded room to doctor his ankle I armed every man of us with a sheath knife and belt while the sky grew muddier and the sun darker. It was the lava earthquake, but we did not know it for a long time.

Soon the professor appeared and announced that his instruments were in good condition.

"I must resensitize my plates however he said. Der salt water has spoiled them but the rest of my things are dry.'

"'Well' I answered 'that's all right But what are they in the face of this emergency? Are you thinking of photographing anything now?'

"'Perhaps I but been thinking.

"'Have you thought out what that creature is forward there?'

'Partly It is some creature thrown up from der bottom of der sea and washed on board by der wave. Light,

Up to His Waist in Water the Professor Was Working Away.

like water motion ends at a certain depth and we have over 12 000 feet below us At that depth dere is absolute darkness, but we know that creatures live dere'

"'But why can't we see that thing?

"'Because it has never been exposed to light I mean visible light, der light that contains der seven colors of der sun trum here it may not respond to der three properties of visible light—reflection which would give it a color of some kind absorption which would make it appear black or refraction which, in der absence of der other two, would distort things seen through it, for it would be transparent you know'

"'But what can be done?'

"'Nothing, except that der next man attacked must use his knife If he cannot see der creature he can feel it Und perhaps we may see it—its photograph You know,' he said that objects too small to be seen by the microscope became smaller than der amplitude of der shortest wave of visible light can be seen when exposed to der ultraviolet light—der dark light be vond der spectrum Und you know that this light is what acts der most in photography, that it exposes on a sensitized plate new stars in der heavens invisible to der eye through the strongest telescope.

"'Don't know anything about it' I answered

'I must think' he said dreamily, 'of how a rock crystal lens which is permeable to this light and which I can place in mine camera I must have a concave mirror not of glass which is opaque to this light but of metal thus to throw der ultraviolet light on der beast I can generate it with mine static machine'

"'How will one of our lantern reflectors do? They are of polished tin I think.'

"'Good' I can repolish one'

'This I procured from the lazaret, and he pronounced it available Night came down and safely I lighted three masthead lights to inform any passing craft that we were not under command

"The steward brought up all the blankets there were in the cabin but there were not enough to go around and one man volunteered against my advice to go forward and bring aft bedding from the forecastle He did not come back We heard his yell, ill it finished with a gurgle but in that darkness not one of us dared to venture to his rescue

"We did not find the dead man when the faint daylight came His body must have washed over the rail with a sea and we hoped the invisible killer had gone too With courage born of this hope a man went forward to lower the masthead lights.

"We watched him closely pike pole in one hand, his knife in the other But he went under at the fore rigging without even a yell and the pole went with him, while we could see that his arms were close to his sides After a few moments, however the pike pole floated to the surface, but the man's body, drained no doubt of its buoyant fluids, remained on the deck It was an hour later, with the pike pole for a fteer before we dared approach the body and tow it aft. It resembled that of the first victim a skeleton clothed with skin, with the same look of horror on the face. We buried it like the other and held to the poop, choked by ashes from the sky.

Before the afternoon was half gone it was as dark as night and down below up to his waist in water the German professor was working away He came up at supper time humming cheerfully, and announced that he had replaced his camera lens with the rock crystal, that the lantern with its reflector and a fine spark in the focus made an admirable instrument for throwing the invisible rays on the beast and that he was all ready except that his plates which he had resensitized must have time to dry And then he needed some light to work by when the time came he explained

"'Also another victim,' I suggested bitterly for he had not been on deck when the last two men had died 'Better devise some means of killing him.' I answered

'Der only way I can think of' he responded 'is for de next man—you hear me all you men—to stick your knife at the end of the blood where it collects in a lump Dere is der creatures stomach and a vital spot.'

A shriek suddenly sounded A man lashed with a turn of rope around his waist to the stump of the mizzenmast was writhing and heaving on his back while he struck madly with his knife With my own knife in my hand I sprang toward him and felt for what had seized him It was something cold and hard and leathery close to his waist I lunged with the knife The next moment I received a blow in the face that sent me aft six feet

'When I recovered my senses the remnant of the crew were around me but the man was gone—dragged out of the bight of the rope that had held him against the force of breaking seas and down to the flooded main deck to die like the others

"I went on deck at 6 in the morning The lantern still burned at the stump of the mizzenmast but the lookout was gone He had not lived long enough to be relieved We were but six now

'Did this thing kill any more men?' I asked

'All but the professor and myself and it almost killed me Look here

He removed his cravat and collar pulled down his shirt and exposed two livid scars about an inch in diameter and two apart.

"I lost all the blood I could spare through those two holes but saved enough to keep alive"

'Go on with the yarn I asked

Some things should be forgotten' he added "but as I have told you this much I may as well finish and be done with it

"It was partly due to a sailor's love for tobacco partly to our cold drenched condition A sailor will starve quietly but go crazy if deprived of his smoke

"Our slop chest was under water and the tobacco utterly useless but the boys had an upper bunk in the forward house in which was a couple of pounds of navy plug, and he and the sailor talked this over until their craving for a smoke overcame their fear of death.

By this time all discipline was ended and all my commands went for nothing They sharpened their knives, and, agreeing to go forward, one on the starboard rail the other on the port, and each to come to the other's aid if called they went up into the darkness I opened my room window which overlooked the main deck but could see nothing

"Yet I could hear' I heard two screams for help one from the starboard side the other from the port and knew that they were caught What manner of thing it was that could grab two men so far apart nearly at the same time was beyond all imagining

"'This thing I said to the professor, 'must be able to see in the dark

'Why not?' he answered as he puttered with big wires 'Cats and owls can see in the dark, and the accepted explanation is that by their power of enlarging der pupils they admit more light to the retina But that explanation never satisfied me You but noticed haf you not that a cats eyes shine in der dark but only when der cat is looking at you—that is when it looks elsewhere you do not see der shiny eyes'

"Yes,' I answered

"'A cats eyes are searchlights but they send forth a visible light such as is generated by fireflies und some fish Und dere are fish in der upper tributaries of der Amazon which haf four eyes der two upper of which are searchlights der two lower of which are organs of perciplence or vision But visible light is not der only light. It is possible that the creature out on deck generates the invisible light and can see by it Der creature may live in an atmosphere of ultraviolet light, which I can generate mineself When mine plates dry I may get a picture of it Then we may find means of killing it'

God grant that you succeed

'But, as I said the thing killed all but the professor and myself If there is anything an oriental loves above his ancestors it is his stomach and the cold, canned food was palling upon us all We had the turpentine torch for heating water and some dry coffee in the steward's storeroom but not a utensil of any kind So these two poor heathen against my protest went out on the deck and waded forward waist deep in the water

I could see them as they entered the galley to get the coffeepot I did not see them come out, nor did I hear even a squeal. The thing must have been in the galley Night came on and we slept as best we could

"I roused the professor when I saw the masthead and two side lights of a steamer approaching from the starboard still about a mile away I had not dared to go up and rig that lantern at the mizzen stump, but now I nerved myself to go up with a torch the professor following with his instruments He had a Wimshurst machine—to generate a blue spark you know—and this he had attached to the big deck light from which he had removed the opaque glass Then he had his camera with its rock crystal lens

He trained both forward from the cabin top and waited while I waved the torch standing near the stump with a turn of rope around me for safety's sake in case the thing seized me No sooner was there an answering blast of a steam whistle indicating that the steamer had seen the torch than something cold wet leathery and slimy slipped around my neck I dropped the torch and drew my knife while I heard the whir of the static machine as the professor turned it

Use your knife' he called and reach for any blood you see!'

I struck as I could but could make no impression and soon felt another stricture around my legs

'Still another belt encircled me and though I was clad in woolen shirts and monkey jacket, I felt these garments being torn from me Now I was nearly bent double

"And all the time that German was whirling his machine and shouting to strike for any blood I saw But I saw

"Use your knife he called, "and reach for blood!

none Two spots on my chest began to smart then burn as though hot irons were piercing me Frantically I struck right and left sometimes at the coils encircling me again in the air Then all became dark

* * * * * * *

I awakened in a stateroom berth too weak to lift my hands the professor standing over me

'Ach it is well he said 'You will recover You had merely lost blood but you did the right thing You struck with your knife at the blood and you killed the creature I was right Heart, brain und all vital parts were in der stomach

"'Where are we?' I asked

"'On board der steamer When you staggered aft I knew you had killed him Then you fainted away We were taken off Und I had two or three beautiful negatives which I am printing Next day he showed me the photographs he had printed

'In heavens name, what was it?' I asked excitedly

"'Nothing but a giant squid or octopus Did you ever read Hugo's terrible story of Gilliat's fight with a squid?'

"I had and nodded

"'Hugo's imagination could not give him a creature no matter how formidable, larger than one of four feet stretch This one had three tentacles around me two others gripped the port and starboard pinrails and later were gripping the stump of the main mast It had a reach of forty feet

But there was one part of each picture ill defined and missing My knife and right hand were not shown They were buried in a dark lump which could be nothing but the blood from my veins Unconscious but still struggling I had stuck into the soft body of the monster and struck true

The next Morgan Robertson story will be 'Fifty Fathoms Down'

THE MAN WHO FLIES.

He Should Be Young and Robust Both In Body and Mind

The work of an aviator demands robust health of both body and mind From leakage of petrol spray the pilot may become dizzy and the exhaust gases from the engine—carbon monoxide and dioxide—may cause headache drowsiness and malaise The rarefied air at great elevations may induce the symptoms well known in balloonists and Wells refers to a case of frostbite in an airman who had been exposed to 34 degrees of frost at an elevation of 15 000 feet Psychasthenic symptoms—namely loss of self confidence and the resulting mental worry (acrostheania)—are not uncommon and prove that the victim has mistaken his sphere of activity

Flying is undoubtedly the job of a young man under thirty years of age and not every young man is temperamentally or physically fitted to carry it through Perfect eyesight is necessary to insure safe landing correction with glasses being not without its dangers, perfect hearing is essential to detect the first indications of engine defect and free movement of joints of the lower limbs to control the steering gear

Fits and tendency to faint absolutely debar the aspirant from the air service In one remarkable instance at Hasla an airman who fainted with the result that the aeroplane dived nose down and 1 200 feet into a plowed field escaped with such minor injuries that he was at first extremely loath to give up this branch of the service—London Lancet

Former United States Senator Mason

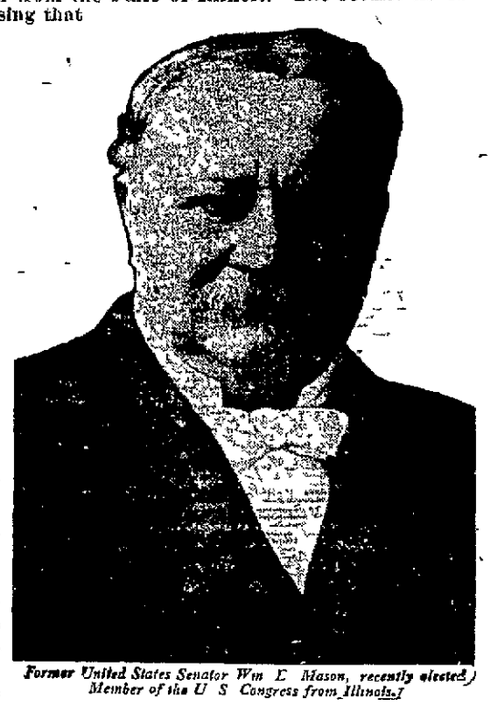

Pioneer in Pure Food and Drugs Legislation, Father of Rural Free Delivery System

Takes Nuxated Iron

to obtain renewed strength, power and endurance after the hardest fought political campaign of his life in which he was elected Congressman from the State of Illinois. The results he obtained from taking Nuxated Iron were so surprising that

SENATOR MASON NOW SAYS

Nuxated Iron Should Be Made Known to Every Nervous, Run Down, Anaemic Man, Woman and Child.

Former United States Senator Wm E Mason, recently elected Member of the U S Congress from Illinois.

Opinion of Dr. Howard James, late of the Manhattan State Hospital of New York, and formerly Assistant Physician Brooklyn State Hospital, who has prescribed and thoroughly tested Nuxated Iron in his own private practice.

WHAT SENATOR MASON SAYS

"I have often said I would never recommend medicine of any kind I believe that the doctor's place However after the hardest political campaign of my life without a chance for a vacation I had been starting to count every morning with that horrible tired feeling one cannot describe I was advised to try Nuxated Iron As a pioneer in the pure food and drug legislation I was at first loath to try an advertised remedy But after advising with one of my medical friends I gave it a test The results have been so beneficial in my own case I made up my mind to let my friends know about it and you are at liberty to publish this statement If you so desire I am now sixty-five years of age and I feel that a remedy which will build up the strength and increase the power of endurance of a man of my age should be known to every nervous run-down anemic man, woman and child."

Senator Mason's statement in regard to Nuxated Iron was shown to several physicians who were requested to give their opinions thereon

Dr Howard James late of the Manhattan State Hospital of N Y and formerly Assistant Physician Brooklyn State Hospital said Senator Mason is to be commended on handing out this statement on Nuxated Iron for publication there are thousands of men and women who need a strength and blood builder but do not know what to take There is nothing like organic iron—Nuxated Iron—to give increased strength snap vigor and staying power It enriches the blood brings roses to the cheeks of women and is an unfailing source of renewed vitality and calmness and power for men who burn up the rapidly their nervous energy in the strenuous strain of the great business competition of the day

Dr Ferdinand King a New York physician and Medical Author said "I heartily indorse Senator Mason's statement in regard to Nuxated Iron I can be an vigorous iron men without iron Pallor means anemia Anemia means iron deficiency The skin of anemic men and women is pale the flesh flabby, the muscles lack tone the brain fags, and the memory fails and often they become weak nervous dependent and melancholy

"In the most common foods of America the starches sugars table syrups candies, polished rice white bread soda crackers biscuits macaroni spaghetti tapioca sago farina degerminated cornmeal no longer is iron to be found Refining processes have removed the iron of Mother Earth from these impoverished foods and alike methods of home cookery by throwing down the waste pipe the water in which our vegetables are cooked are responsible for another grave iron loss

Therefore if you wish to preserve your youthful vim and vigor to a ripe old age you must supply the iron deficiency in your food by using some form of organic iron—Nuxated Iron—just as you would use salt when your food has not enough salt

Dr J Sauer a Boston physician who has studied abroad in great European medical institutions said Senator Mason is right As I have said a hundred times over organic iron is the greatest of all strength builders

Not long ago a man came to me who was nearly half a century old and asked me to give him a preliminary examination for life insurance I was astonished to find him with the blood pressure of a boy of twenty and as full of vigor vim and vitality as a young man in fact a young man he really was notwithstanding his age The secret he said was taking organic iron—Nuxated Iron had filled him with renewed life At thirty-six he was a nervous wreck and nearly all in Now at fifty after taking Nuxated Iron a miracle of vitality and his face beaming with the buoyancy of youth Iron is absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change your food into living tissue Without it no matter how much or what you eat your food merely passes through you without doing you any good You don't get the strength out of it and as a consequence you become weak pale and sickly looking just like a plant trying to grow in a soil deficient in iron If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired Next take two five grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times a day after meals for two weeks Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained I have seen dozens of nervous run down people who were ailing all the while double their strength and endurance and entirely rid themselves of dyspepsia liver and all symptoms of other troubles in from ten to fourteen days time simply by taking iron in the proper form And this after they had in no cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit But don't take the old forms of reduced iron iron acetate or tincture of iron simply to save a few cents The high demanded by Mother Nature for the red coloring matter in the blood of her children is alas! not that kind of iron You must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated to do you any good otherwise it may prove worse than useless Many an athlete and prizefighter has won the day simply because he knew the secret of great strength and endurance and filled his blood with iron before he went in to the affray while many another has gone down in inglorious defeat simply for the lack of iron

Dr Schuyler C Jaques Visiting Surgeon of St Elizabeth Hospital New York City said "I have never before given out any medical information or advice for publication as I ordinarily do not believe in it But in the case of Nuxated Iron I feel I would be remiss in my duty not to mention it I have taken it myself and given it to my patients with most surprising and satisfactory results And those who wish quickly to increase their strength power and endurance will find it most remarkable and wonderfully effective remedy"

NOTE—Nuxated Iron which is prescribed and recommended above by physicians in such a great variety of cases is not a patent medicine nor secret remedy but one which is well known to druggists and whose constituents are widely prescribed by eminent physicians both in Europe and America Unlike the older inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated does not injure the teeth make them black nor upset the stomach on the contrary it is a most potent remedy in nearly all forms of indigestion as well as for nervous run down conditions The manufacturers have such great confidence in nuxated iron that they offer to forfeit $100 00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron and increase their strength 100 per cent or over in four weeks time provided they have no serious organic trouble They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days time It is dispensed in this city by A A Clarke and all good druggists —Adv.

From the Congressional Directory published by the United States Government— Wm E Mason Senator from Illinois was elected to the 50th Congress in 1887 to the 51st Congress in 1891—defeated for the 52nd Congress 1893.—Elected Senator to the 58th Congress 1897 to 1903

Senator Mason is now Congressman from the State of Illinois

Senator Mason's championship of Pure Food and Drugs legislation his fight for the rural free delivery system and his strong advocacy of all bills favoring labor and the rights of the masses as against trusts and combines made him a national figure at Washington and endeared him to the hearts of the working man and the great masses of people throughout the United States Senator Mason has the distinction of being one of the really big men of the nation His strong endorsement of Nuxated Iron must convince any intelligent thinking reader that it must be a preparation of very great merit and one which the Senator feels is bound to be of great value to the masses of people everywhere otherwise he could not afford to lend his name to it especially after his strong advocacy of pure food and drugs legislation

Since Nuxated Iron has obtained such an enormous sale—over three million people using it annually—other iron preparations are often recommended as a substitute for it The reader should remember that there is a vast difference between ordinary metallic iron and the organic iron contained in Nuxated Iron therefore always insists on having Nuxated Iron as recommended by Dr Howard James late of the Manhattan State Hospital of N Y and formerly Assistant Physician Brooklyn State Hospital Dr Schuyler C Jaques Visiting Surgeon of St Elizabeth's Hospital New York and other physicians In this connection Dr Howard James says

Iron to be of the slightest value to the human system must be in a combination which may be easily assimilated In the case of metallic salts of iron, iron nucleine etc it is very doubtful if sufficient actual iron can be taken up and incorporated into the blood to be of any service especially in view of the disadvantages entailed by its corrosive action upon the stomach and the damaging effect upon the dental enamel When however we deal with iron in organic combination such for instance as albuminate or better still Nuxated Iron a far different story is told We will observe no destructive action upon the teeth no corrosive effect upon the stomach The iron is readily assimilated into the blood and quickly makes its presence felt in increased vigor snap and staying power

DIVING BEAUTIES WITH CARNIVAL

WATER WONDERS with RICE'S SUBMARINE GIRLS

The New Haven Rose company in offering the public one big festival and exposition, commencing Monday, April 30, at Seventh and Crawford avenue, West Side, assures amusement seekers a week of real enjoyment.

Harry R. Polack, director general of the Rutherford Greater Shows has ever been careful of his reputation as a purveyor to the amusement public in offering only attraction of real merit, realizing that one attraction of a character unmeritorius brings forth a wave of undesirable, reflective comment. So, this season, he will offer the following big attractions on his mid-way: "The Horrors of War," Rice's Diving Venuses and Marine Marvels, Polack Brother's big society circus and stadium, the circus' side-show, the monkey speedway, the "Beauty and the Beast," Mysterious Hazel, Leonora, Spidora, Poses, Plastique and others of a like character and merit.

This recently-given home endorsement will bear re-reading:

Connellsville Drug Co.—Was sick two weeks with stomach and bowel trouble. Pains in pit of stomach, usually about supper time and continuing for about three hours. My appetite was poor and sleep was not restful nor did I get the required amount of sleep. Did not feel like work. No vitality, no ambition. Would be tired in the morning. Only would get four or five hours sleep. Constipated. I have had some Nerv-Worth treatment (only three days, all told.) My troubles are all gone and I feel like a different man. No pains. Bowels regular. Sleep fine. Rested in morning. Appetite good. I am satisfied Nerv-Worth is a good medicine and I cheerfully recommend it.
